

In 2004, Australian Park Ranger Sean Willmore sold his car, remortgaged his house and travelled the world for 12 months to bring you the story of the sometimes life- threatening challenges his colleagues face each day...

This is an Access All Areas pass – you'll go off the tourist trail and beyond the postcards to ride with the guardians of the world's protected natural wonders as they encounter elephant charges in South Africa, undertake armed patrols defending the Mountain Gorillas of central Africa, hang from a helicopter high above the Rockies to pluck an injured hiker to safety.

Witness the compelling stories of men and women who every day cope with corruption, ignorance, politics and greed. Experience as well, their hopes, joys, dedication and sacrifice.

Their daily fight to preserve our tomorrow is more than a job. It's a passionate stand on The Thin Green Line.

100% of all profits from this documentary will aid the families of rangers killed in the line of duty and other ranger/conservation programs. Thanks for your support.
